

JOSE ALEJANDRO GÓMEZ

Colombia, 1991

From an early age, José Alejandro Gómez immersed himself in the captivating world of photography, aiming to develop a profound understanding of light, composition, and color. Photography became his primary passion and paved the way for notable achievements in the artistic industry.

Among his most noteworthy milestones is his debut exhibition in 2008, his participation in "La mirada joven" at Fotomuseo - Bogotá in 2013, the exhibition at See Me Gallery in New York in 2013, and the remarkable design, conceptualization, and visualization for the cover of two albums of the renowned band Morat in 2018 and 2021. Additionally, he has actively participated in various auctions at the National Museum of Colombia.

Gómez's fascination with color and light has transcended the boundaries of photography, leading him to explore mixed media such as painting and stenciling. These explorations have been pivotal, allowing him to constantly experiment and evolve as an artist. Through this process, he has gained new knowledge and techniques, enriching his ability to create works that reflect his unique perspective on the world and himself.
